I Haven't Forgotten

Dear Friend,

When I'm back home in Arizona, I'm often asked by the people "What are you doing about Benghazi?"

Wednesday morning, on the one-year anniversary of the Benghazi terrorist attack, I traveled to the State Department's headquarters and hand-delivered a letter to Department officials.

(Rep. Gosar signing the letter to State Department officials, September 11, 2013)

The letter asked for the State Department's assistance in expediting the investigation into what happened the night of the Benghazi terrorist attack, which left four Americans dead. Click HERE to view a copy of the letter and click HERE to read more about my visit in the National Review. Two other conservative publications also covered my visit, Breitbart and Rare.

America and the families of those murdered have not forgotten about Benghazi. I have not forgotten. Click HERE to read my official statement on the first anniversary of the terrorist attack in Benghazi.

One year later, no arrests have been made and no real answers have been given. As America honors the nearly 3,000 people murdered by the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001, let us also honor the lives of the four heroes abandoned during the Benghazi attack by getting the answers we deserve.

On Syria, President Obama Unites Nation - Against Him

On Monday night, I held a tele-townhall and heard from constituents on the topic of Syria. The people calling overwhelmingly opposed any intervention by the United States in the Syrian Civil War.

As I said previously, barring a major new development, I will not support a declaration of war against Syria or vote to authorize a military strike. There is no clear mission from the President. There is no strategy. There is no exit strategy or plan to succeed military action. There is no U.S. interest we are protecting. Click HERE to read my official statement. Click HERE to read my response to President Obama's Tuesday night speech in The Arizona Republic.

On Tuesday, I spoke on the House floor to address the possibility of U.S. military intervention in Syria. In this dangerous civil war the enemy of our enemy is still, and will always be, our enemy. Click HERE or below to watch the video.

Obama Administration Rejects Aid for Fire Victims of Yarnell

On Friday, the Obama Administration announced that it rejected Gov. Brewer's appeal for federal FEMA aid for the fire victims in Yarnell and Peeples Valley. I remain puzzled by what appears to be an arbitrary and capricious decision to deny FEMA aid. It's beyond disappointing that once the TV cameras have left, the administration would turn its back on Yarnell and Peeples Valley. The President made a promise to provide the support these communities justifiably deserve but has now done an about-face. Despite the administration's decision, our community will rebuild and endure. Click HERE to read my statement.

Hitting the Airwaves

On Wednesday, I appeared on the Dennis Miller Show to discuss Syria and the first and twelfth anniversaries of the brutal 9/11 attacks of 2012 and 2001, respectively. Click HERE or below to listen to my interview.

Obamacare Malady of the Week

Obamacare is so bad that even the union organization AFL-CIO is speaking out in opposition. On Wednesday, they passed a resolution declaring that the law will increase costs, possibly to the extent that union sponsored health coverage becomes unaffordable and will have to be dropped. Congressional District 4: DID YOU KNOW?

Wickenburg was once the third largest town in Arizona. It missed becoming the territorial capital by two votes in 1866.
