It's Time to "Audit the Fed"

Dear Friend,

We did it. We passed Rep. Ron Paul's bill calling for an audit of the Federal Reserve. I was an early supporter of the bill, because transparency is vital to ensuring that a government elected by the people remains for the people. The quasi-public institution known as the Federal Reserve has managed to operate for too long in a veil of secrecy when dictating the monetary policy of our nation.

As a cosponsor and an advocate for Rep. Ron Paul's Federal Reserve Transparency Act, H.R. 459, which calls for a one-time audit of the Federal Reserve, I share in the belief that open government is the best government.

Congress and the American people should know the details of the Federal Reserve's operations and decisions, and that is why this week's vote was important in bringing congressional oversight and transparency to the Federal Reserve. Please, click
An Olympic Athlete Achieving His Dream.

Guor Marial is a refugee from Sudan who started running in high school, went on to run at Iowa State, and is now heading to the 2012 Olympic Games. Guor came to my office for help obtaining the documentation needed to be allowed to travel to London to compete in the marathon on August 12, 2012.

With a lot of cooperation and teamwork between the U.S. and U.K. governments, the US Olympic Committee, the International Olympic Committee and my office, Guor will be able to go to London and compete in the marathon. Good luck Guor!

Ending Federal Tax Giveaway to Illegal Immigrants

This week I introduced The Responsible Child Tax Credit Eligibility Verification Act of 2012 to fight the fraud, waste and abuse that resulted in over $4 billion in refundable tax credits going to illegal immigrants in 2010 alone.

I came to Congress to fight against waste, fraud and abuse in our federal government

My legislation will require increased verification by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in order for noncitizen tax filers to claim the refundable portion of the child tax credit. Please view more information and the bill itself here.

Rescuing Small Business from Restricting Red Tape

On Wednesday, I spoke on the House floor in support of the Red Tape Reduction and Small Business Job Creation Act of 2012 to cut back on the regulations that are hurting businesses across the country.

Over 41,000 pages of regulations were published by the Obama Administration this year. Please click above to learn more.

Red tape has tied the hands and feet of employers and entrepreneurs alike. It is time to remove the onerous regulations and free the private sector.

Condemning Senseless Violence and Standing with Aurora, Colorado

The sadness touching the Aurora community stretches across the nation, yet we stand together in condemning this senseless act of violence. The victims and families impacted by the theater tragedy remain in my thoughts and prayers. The first responders, nurses and doctors who saved lives deserve our greatest thanks. To the community of Aurora, the nation stands behind you in coping and recovering. May justice be served, and may those who lost their lives always be remembered.

-Congressman Paul Gosar

This week, I joined the entire Colorado delegation in supporting and adopting Rep. Ed Perlmutter’s (D-CO) concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 134, to condemn the atrocious shooting that took place in Aurora, Colorado. To read more on the resolution please click here.

As always, you can follow everything I am working on in Arizona and Washington, D.C. through my website (http://gosar.house.gov) on Twitter @repgosar, or through Facebook at Representative Paul Gosar.

Sincerely,

Paul A. Gosar, D.D.S.
Member of Congress
