

No Rest for the Weary: A Busy District Work Week

Archived May 4th

Dear Friend,

On Wednesday, Rep. Joe Heck (NV-03) and I hosted joint town halls in Laughlin, Nevada and in Bullhead City, Arizona. Over the course of the 90 minute town hall, we answered questions from a packed audience on everything from continuing to investigate the Benghazi terror attacks to opposing the internet sales tax. Rep. Heck and I also talked about the importance of building upon the already strong relationship between our two states.

(Rep. Gosar and Rep. Heck begin the Bullhead City town hall, May 1st, 2013)

Thank you to everyone who attended this event. I remain committed to being open and accessible. I have multiple office locations including Prescott, San Tan Valley, Kingman and D.C. Please pick up that pen, send an email, or give my office a call to continue to let me know what issues are on your mind. I look forward to hearing from you. Over 600 Jobs at the Prescott Career Fair

This past Thursday, I hosted a career fair with Goodwill of Central Arizona in Prescott featuring over 40 employers and 600 jobs. I want to thank the businesses, applicants, and most of all Goodwill of Central Arizona for being a part of this event.

(Job-seekers sign in at the career fair, May 2, 2013)

The career fair was held at the Prescott Resort and Conference Center with hundreds in attendance. It was fantastic to see many folks being hired on the spot.

Goodwill of Central Arizona went above and beyond helping job-seekers match up with their potential employers. Goodwill even provided professional attire at no cost to those looking to make an impression on employers.

(Rep. Gosar poses with employers at the career fair, May 2, 2013)

Thank you Goodwill of Central Arizona, employers, members of the Prescott Resort and Conference Center and all of those in attendance for making this year's career fair so successful.

As a small business owner and someone who has spent a lot of time in our community, I know one simple fact: entrepreneurs create jobs, not the federal government. This event was a huge success in bringing together job creators with well qualified job seekers. Let's get Arizonans back to work.

What Immigration Reform Must Entail

As I travel across the district, I get a lot of questions about immigration reform. I want to set the record straight. There is no immigration reform without first securing the border.

America is a nation of immigrants.

In our relatively short history, millions have left their homelands and traveled great distances to be a part of a grand experiment called America. Today, we are a melting pot of traditions, cultures and ethnicities – all united by a shared belief in the freedom and opportunity that we call the American Dream.

But we are also a nation of laws and fairness. Ours is a land where people can come, work hard and be successful regardless of where they come from, so long as they play by the rules and earn their way honestly. It is our belief in the rule of law and our belief in opportunity that makes the American Dream possible.

Both of these traditions are intertwined into our history and both must be preserved as we embark on the debate over immigration reform.

There is no question that our immigration system is not working, and debates on how to reform it spurs deep emotions for those on all sides of the issue.

But reform should not be driven by emotion alone. To successfully implement immigration reform, we must not lose sight of the ultimate goal: immigration reform must strengthen America as the flagship of freedom in the world.

Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University Commissioning Ceremony

This week, I had the honor and the privilege of speaking at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University's commissioning ceremony for 13 cadets. The significance of this ceremony reflected the call to leadership and service that these cadets honored.

(Rep. Gosar addresses cadets at the Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University Commissioning, May 3, 2013)

In the presence of their classmates and families they swore an oath of office; an oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States. They pledged to uphold the system of laws by which we agree to be governed. I have taken a similar oath as a member of Congress, and I have no doubt these newly commissioned officers will fare honorably and defend our liberties.

Touring Salt River Materials Group in Clarkdale

On Tuesday, I visited the Salt River Materials Group mine in Clarkdale--another mine facing the EPA's burdensome, job-killing regulations. The last thing the federal government should be doing during a down economy is place more burdens on business. We need the economy to grow, and suffocating it with burdensome regulations is not the solution.

Obamacare Malady of the Week

New data from Kaiser asks if those opposed to Obamacare should continue trying to change and/or stop it, or simply let it go. A 53% majority said those opposed should keep trying to fight it.

A graphic featuring a close-up of Barack Obama's face on the right side, looking thoughtful with his hand to his chin. On the left, there is text in blue and white. The text reads: "1,134 DAYS SINCE OBAMACARE BECAME LAW AND STILL..." followed by "53% SAY..." and "THOSE OPPOSED SHOULD KEEP TRYING TO CHANGE OR STOP IT" in a blue box. Below that, it says "AND ONLY 35%... HOLD A FAVORABLE OPINION OF IT" in a blue box. The Obama logo is integrated into the word "OBAMACARE".

Benghazi Hearing: "Exposing Failure and Recognizing Courage" May 8th
