

Dear Friend,

This week began the 114th Congress and I am extremely proud and humbled to have been selected to serve as the Representative of Arizona's Fourth Congressional district. On the heels of an historic election this past November, I'm very optimistic about the prospects of this Congress and believe we are in a good position to get a lot of your priorities accomplished. I will continue to deliver on the promises I made to each and everyone one of you.

As many of you know, the first vote of each new Congress is to select the Speaker of the House. This important position sets the agenda for all legislation brought to the House floor. Being selected as the Speaker comes with an immense amount of responsibility and sits third in line to the Presidency of the United States.

Over the past few months thousands of you contacted my office to voice your opinion about the direction of House Leadership. The phone lines were burning up across Capitol Hill over the past few days. You sent a clear message to Congress that the American people are fed up with the status quo and have called for bold action to stand against the Obama Administration's lawlessness. I share those feelings and that is why I was part of an honest discussion with my colleagues in the House about alternative choices to replace the current Speaker.

My vote was about fixing the legislative process. We promised the American people more transparency and more accountability from Congress in how business gets done in Washington. It is time that elected Representatives begin creating an environment where we actually deliver on the promises we make.

Additionally, I firmly believe that leadership comes by listening to solutions, building a narrative, developing a strategy and implementing it. That's how success is attained. And I know from that standpoint, Americans want and deserve to be heard.

Concerns raised by me and other members were heard and will not soon be forgotten. I still believe that the 114th

Congress can take bold action to address the serious problems facing our country. But first, we must listen to the American people and have the courage to fix our flawed legislative process. I am proud to be a member of the people's House and will continue working with all of my colleagues to restore liberty and economic prosperity.

Year in Review: Most Effective Member of the 113th Congress

With 6 bills signed into law by the president, 12 other of my legislative efforts becoming law, and 25 of my amendments passing the House, I am honored and very proud to have been the most effective member of the 113th Congress.

@REPGOSAR GOSAR.HOUSE.GOV

After dozens of town halls and meetings, thousands of calls and letters, Arizonans made their legislative priorities clear. I am pleased to have delivered on the important issues YOU identified including cutting waste, fraud and abuse from government spending, building a better environment for private job creation and holding the Obama Administration accountable for its actions and overreaching policies. I am constantly inspired by the hardworking citizens of the great state of Arizona and will continue to listen to your ideas and perspectives while delivering solutions to improve your life.

Lake Havasu Student Accepted into U.S. Naval Academy

I want to offer my sincerest congratulations to Kayla Olsen of Lake Havasu City for receiving her appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy. Kayla is an outstanding student at Lake Havasu High School where she participates in varsity volleyball, track and basketball along with being a member of National Honor Society, Math Club and Chemistry Club... all while maintaining a 4.67 GPA! I am incredibly proud of her and look forward to following her accomplishments as she heads to Annapolis, Maryland.
